

Could your life, like Tom's, do with some inspiration and transformation?

Would you like to experience ultimate joy, meaning, and purpose in your life?

Are you looking for hope and a bright future for yourself and those you love?

Then think of this leaflet as Philip Reekie cycling to you today. Discover what 20,000 others have found—a transformed life!

Discover what the Bible says about life and learn how you can have peace and happiness. Get your free hard copy by completing some online quizzes. Thousands have received their Bibles so far.

To request your FREE personal hard copy of the book The Great Controversy get in touch with us. The volume is also available as a free audiobook and eBook. Scan the QR code for more.

Your Bible and You is a friendly and practical book that shows how to read your Bible for maximum comprehension, enjoyment, and spiritual growth.

Now more than 3 million in print!

REFLECTING hope

Reflecting Hope Scotland
Phone: 01764 680888
Email: office@adventist.scot
Website: www.adventist.scot
Address: Comraich, Gwydyr Road, Crieff
Postcode: PH7 4BS

A GUY ON A BIKE

transforms
20,000 lives

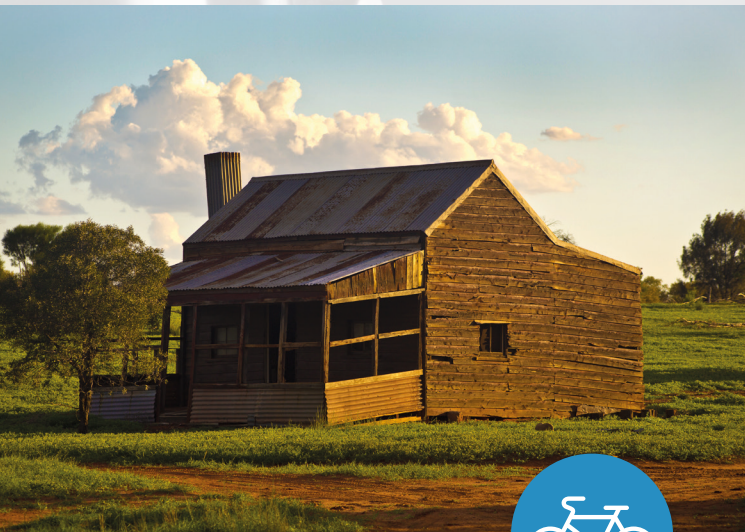

Twenty thousand people, and counting, have been inspired and transformed by the action of a cyclist, Philip Reekie.

Philip cycled to a farm in a middle-of-nowhere place called Eugowra, Australia. Unbeknown to Philip, the family on this farm was heartbroken.

Tom Kent's wife, Mary, had just lost her battle with pneumonia. Tom was in despair while struggling to take care of their 11 children.

Just before she died, Mary asked Tom to promise that he would meet her in heaven—and help the children to ultimately join them. Tom promised Mary.

Now, with tears in his eyes, he looked for a Bible to see how he could keep his promise. That's when Philip met Tom.

But let's back up—who was Philip?

Philip Ainslie Reekie was born in Scotland in 1846. In 1888, widowed and divorced, Philip Reekie emigrated from Scotland to Australia, looking for a new life. It didn't take him long to find it! In 1889, he stumbled on some Christian literature, discovered the amazing truths of the Bible, and encountered the real Jesus of Nazareth. He not only found a new country, he also found a new reason to live.

“ For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, says the Lord, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope.

Jeremiah 29:11
(NKJV)

Philip now wanted to spread hope. He left his work as an engraver because he wanted God's Word to be engraved upon hearts. On dusty outback roads, through dry monotonous terrain, and under a merciless hot Australian sun, Philip rode a bicycle many miles, distributing hope-filled Christian literature.

One day Philip saw a farmer ploughing a field, a man strong in physique but broken in spirit. It was Tom Kent.

Philip listened to Tom's story of heartbreak, saw his condition of pain, and heard of Mary's dying hope. Philip shared with Tom the Christian book, The Great Controversy. Tom wrestled with the biblical truths he saw, but after careful study, he accepted the biblical teachings. His new discoveries from the Bible gave Tom the deep comfort that he needed and the amazing assurance that he wanted. He shared his discoveries with his children and neighbours. His children and five neighbouring families became believers and disciples of Jesus. It was then that Tom knew he could keep his promise to his wife.

Fast-forward from 1896 to the present day, and this remarkable story continues. When you add the descendants of Tom and the other five families to the numbers of people these descendants have discipled into Christianity—there are more than 20,000! That's 20,000 lives transformed by a faithful guy on a bicycle and a farmer who shared a good book with his family and neighbours.

